Your rights. Your rights are strongest in what are known as “traditional public forums,” such as streets, sidewalks, and parks. You also likely have the right to speak out on other public property, like plazas in front of government buildings, as long as you are not blocking access to the government building or interfering with other purposes the property was designed for.

If you've signed a one-year lease, your landlord cannot change the terms mid-year. If you have a short term rental, like a month-to-month lease, the landlord can up the rent, but needs to give you 30-day notice.. The answer here is pretty simple: Don't pay a rent increase that is in violation of landlord tenant law.
