Inside Outside Between Architecture And

Inside Outside constructs a framework of interpretation for architecture and landscape architecture in order to disclose relations between them that are normally overlooked. Five operations—reciprocity, materiality, threshold, insertion, and infrastructure—each initiate an alternative way of looking at the construction and representation of relationships between architecture, landscape, city, and individuals.

ABSTRACT: Defining space by dividing it to inside and outside is one of human's ways to recognize his position in environment. Architecture is created to response to this need for inside/outside spaces. Design of inside and outside Spaces and relation between them always has been one of necessities for definition and limitation of human living
